Request for Support Toward Missionary Training

Dear Elders,

I hope this message finds you well. I am grateful for your leadership, care, and faithfulness in shepherding our church, and I'm thankful for the way you consistently encourage the body to participate in God's mission.

Over the past season, the Lord has been steadily stirring my heart toward the work of missions—specifically toward sharing the gospel among those who have not yet heard it. As I've prayed, sought counsel, and reflected, I've sensed a growing desire not only to go, but to prepare well and wisely for that calling.

Because of this, I am hoping to participate in the Missionary Blueprint Cohort, a three-month, online missionary training program. The program is designed to provide practical, Scripture-shaped foundations for cross-cultural mission work. Rather than being purely academic, it places participants in a cohort where they learn alongside others, receive feedback from experienced missionaries and mentors, and wrestle through real-world questions about gospel ministry, culture, and long-term faithfulness. I believe this structure would help me lay strong foundations and develop a clear framework as I continue discerning and pursuing missionary service.

One of the reasons this program feels like a good fit is that it allows for intentional training while remaining connected to my local church community. My hope is not simply personal growth, but preparation that positions me to be a faithful "goer" who is sent out from—and remains accountable to—the local church.

With that in mind, I wanted to ask whether the church might be in a position to help support this training financially. The total cost of the program is $2,500. I understand that resources are stewarded carefully, and I want you to know that any level of assistance would be deeply appreciated. I view this not only as help with training costs, but as an investment in preparation toward future missionary service.

Thank you for taking the time to consider this request. I would be very glad to answer any questions or to talk further if that would be helpful. I am grateful for your prayerful consideration and for the ways you encourage and support those who desire to serve Christ and His mission.

With gratitude,

Matt
